AFFIDAVIT

My name is Patrick Snell and I swear or affirm that the following averments are true and correct to the best of my education, experience, knowledge and belief:

1. I am a computer expert (please see attached resume).

2. On October 16, 2007, I had the opportunity to review the forensic hard drive data, files and images in the possession of the Alabama Bureau of Investigation, made basis of the charges against the defendant in this cause.

3. The forensic data came from two hard drives; one arbitrarily designated as an "in-use" computer and the other arbitrarily designated as a "not-in-use" computer.

4. Regarding the Defendant's "in-use" computer: There was no evidence that I discovered or evidence shown to me by the Alabama Bureau of Investigation examiner that indicated that there were any useable pornographic files on this computer; they had apparently all been deleted before his computer was removed by the local authorities.

5. Regarding the Defendant's "not-in-use" computer: There was no evidence that I discovered or evidence shown to me by the Alabama Bureau of Investigation examiner that indicated that pornographic files had been accessed after March 6 of 2006 on this computer.

6. It is impossible to determine whether the on-board clocks of either computer were functioning or not, or set correctly, bringing into question the date stamps and time stamps of when any of these files were created, accessed or deleted.
